Recent advice from Berlin state that in sympathy with all the commercial firms concerned the East Asiatic Union has repeatedly pointed out that the importance of the commercial interests at Shanghai make it necessary that permanent Court for commercial affairs should be created there, or that at least an official long standing should be entrusted with the duty dealing with these matters. It seemed that the Imperial Government was about to meet these wishes, but the new Budget does not contoes the necessary expenditure for such an office. Nevertheless, the Union is hoping that its anleaveurs will at last be successful, for it is no longer tolerable that a younger official of the German Consulate at Shanghai should be trusted with such an important work, and the less so because such young officials only remain there for short periods and by transference from one consulate to another fail to obtain sufficient experience.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM. This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it erere, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is accordated vitality—vigour tial in all such cases is increased vitation-vigour-VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY THERAPION No. 3 than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the direction accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored, THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE

LIGHTED UP AFRESH, and a new existence imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out, used up, and valueless. This wonderful medicament is suitable for all ages, constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and the difficult to imaginus case of disease or derangement whose male features are those of debility, that will not be speedily and permanently overcome by this recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into obliviou everything that had preceded it for this wide-spreadandnumerous class of humanaliments.

THERAPION is obtainable

in England, 2/9. Purchasers should see that word THERAPION appears on British Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) of affixed to every genuine package.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY THE MOON BY INVISIBLE LIGHT.

or ultraviolet-Prof. R. W. Wood, of Johns responding to the usual dot and dash. Hopkins University, has opened a new field to our vision. It is the invisible ultraviolet rays | Reviewing ancient and medieval menageries, pictures have the bright craters quite as bright first to train cormorants for fishing. as the other pictures, but they also bring out a 3-shaped black deposit near Aristarchus that seems never to have been made perceptible by visible light. To get an idea of the character of this deposit, a study is being made of the ultraviolet rays reflected from igneous rocks, volcanic ejects, and other materials.

A MUCH-WANTED PLATING. A "domestic electroplating process" that he sought ten years has been brought to the notice of the London Royal Society of Arts by Augustus Rosenberg. The material evolved is in preference to foreign articles. a powder that contains the metal to be deposited. with other ingredients that make up an electrolyte on the addition of water, and it is claimed that the application of the mixture with a moistened rag or brush gives a strongly adherent deposit of substantial thickness. Prof. Sylvanus Thompson bore testimony to having seen the process used for nickel-plating without a battery.

THE BEST SAND-LIME MIXTURE. Sand-lime bricks, as used for some years, seem to vary greatly in strength and 'durability. In experiments reported by J. C. Stead, a mixture of about 13.5 per cent. of lime with 86.5 per cent. of sand, suitably compressed in moulds, gave the maximum strength of over 9,000 pounds per square inch.

ARTIFICIALLY COLOURED DIAMONDS. Radium and other rays having been found to affect the colour of such stones as the amethyst and the beryl, Paul Sacredote has tested the action of various rays upon the diamond, which has a simpler chemical constitution and varies. greatly in value with slight colour changes. The specimens tried were from different sources, some being colourless and others slightly yellowish. Each diamond was submitted in turn to the action of the X-rays, while outside the tube, to that of the cathode rays when placed within the tube, and finally to the action of heat. For the last experiment an electrically-heated muffle was used, with a thermometer showing the temperature up to 300 deg. C. The X-rays seemed to have no noticeable effect, but the cathode rays changed the white or light yellow to light brown, which prolonged action gradually deepened to dark brown. The artificia, colouring thus given seems to be permanent, as the diamond lately shown the Paris Academy had been kept without alteration for a year, at times in the light and even in strong sunlight. Heat of 300 deg. to 400 deg. C. had a decolourizing effect, bringing back artificially coloured part of the China Sea diamonds to their original colourlessness.

CONSTANT WINDS FOR POWER. The increasing importance of the windmill suggests the need of records for each locality showing the amount of wind that can be expected each year at a moderate height. A consular report calls attention to a windmill-14 feet in diameter and 35 feet above the ground—that is in operation in a peat-bog near Dunfermline. and is doing in less than an hour work that formerly employed four men an entire day of ten hours. This windmill rarely; if ever, ceases moving. It is found safe to say that, at a height of 30 feet, a breeze of 10 to 15 miles an hour cannot be depended upon with reasonable certainty in any part of Scotland except valleys and sheltered spots, and the power offered is suitable for pumping, sawing, root-cutting, and various kinds of farm work. With electrical trausmission, the range of service can be indefinitely extended.

WHEN EARTHQUAKES COME. From 2,497 earthquakes recorded in the vicinity of the Austrian Alps, from 1897 to 1907. Dr. V. Conrad finds that shocks are much more frequent in March than in any other month and least frequent in June. The hour of greatest frequency is 2 a.m.

THE NEON LAMP. A curious new light is being made the subject of hopeful experiment by G. Claude. The gas neon, discovered by Ramsay in the atmosphere, is specially distinguished for its chemical inertness, but J. Norman Collie has made known a remarkable physical property that gives this element peculiar interest. A glass tube enclosing a little mercury in meon at low pressure becomes strongly luminous on being shaken. Repeating the shaking at intervals during two or three hours, the light diminishes and then remains constant, but an electric discharge through the tube restores the original luminosity. Restoring to atmospheric temperature after one end has been heated to 7500 F. while the other end is cooled in liquid air, the tube glows much more brightly than before in the part that had been heated. In a tube of fused quartz-instead of glass-the luminosity is also strikingly increased. Other gases have given similar effects, but the intensity has been less, the neon lamp being the one that has shown interesting promise.

BODY, TELEGRAPHY. The human body has been used as a telegraphic receiving instrument, and it is predicted that such use may prove valuable in supergency. In experiments of Prof. W. W. Holdsne Gee before the Manchester Literary and Philosophical Society, the messages from a distant room were read by a person standing in the electric

WAR ON THE DUMPER.

Leading British firms are joining with outhusiasm in the war against dumping, which promises to develop into one of the most remarkable trade movements ever organised in this country. Arrangements are being made to form an "anti-dumping" association, whose objects will be: To prevent the selling of foreign-made goods

To promote the sale of British-made goods The initial meeting was to be held in the St. James Room of the Hotel Metropole on March 16th at the conclusion of the sitting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and it was expected and would be attended by merchants and manufacturers from all parts of the United

The official title of the association was to be The Register of British Manufacturers." The principal resolution to be put to the meeting was as follows:

That this meeting of British manufacturers, convened to consider the best means of combating the fraudulent marking as British of foreign-made goods and to promote the sale of British manufactures in preference to foreign-made goods, hereby resolves to form an association having these objects in view. Among the firms who had promised to be represented are:-Bovril, Limited.
